

Exhumations from St George's Burial Ground, Paddington Street, St Marylebone

More than a thousand exhumations took place from the northern portion of St George's Burial Ground, Paddington Street, St Marylebone during 2014/2015. The remains were exhumed under a Pastoral Scheme after due notice and publication and were reburied in the East London Cemetery, Plaistow, 2015.

The burial ground was consecrated in 1733 and between then and the early 1850s more than 110,000 burials took place there.

Westminster City Council sold land adjoining the burial ground (the old Chiltern Street Multi-Storey Car Park) to Galliard to build fashionable apartments.

Westminster CC had not realised that part of the site remained consecrated and full of burials. Some 1200 sets of remains were carefully removed and reinterred, after recording and re-boxing, in the East London Cemetery at Plaistow.

The place of reburial is marked with a Portland stone marker, which takes as its inspiration the Portland stone and granite marker in the southern part of the Paddington Street Gardens.

A list of those whose names are known as a result of the exhumations follows:
